VOL. XX. NO. 166

PADUCAH, KY., FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 11, 1907.

10 CENTS PER WEEK

HEAVY INCREASE IN ASSESSMENTS

Will Be Made By Supervisors on Property

Board Takes City By Districts and Raises or Lowers According to Conditions.

TEN PER CENT IN SOME CASES.

A ten per cent raise on all property on Broadway from the east side of First street to the west side of Seventh street, and on First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth streets, from the south side of Kentucky avenue to the north side of Jefferson street, has been agreed on by the board of city tax book supervisors, it is said. This represents the biggest part of the board's work for the first week, and it is by no means a small item in the work.

How much this will mean in additional value to the city property can not be estimated off hand. But this rate of increase straight through would increase the valuation of property nearly $1,000,000. It is believed that this much of an increase will be made.

The board is considering property by districts and raising or lowering the assessments according to general conditions in each particular district. After that each separate piece of property will be considered.

DIES AN OLD MAN AT 11 YEARS

Minnesota Boy Seems Aged Sixty When He Passes Away.

Minneapolis, Jan. 11.—James Anderson, whose parents live at North home, Minn., and who died at the city hospital here today, at the age of 11 years and 2 months, was, in the opinion of physicians, at least, 60 years of age at the time of his death, so far as the condition of his vital organs determine the age of a man. When the child was 6 years old his hair began to turn gray, his eyesight began to fail and he walked with deliberate care of a person well advanced in years. As a very young child he was exceptionally bright, but his mental faculties were gradually failing for the last two years, so he was little better than a person in his dotage during the last few months.

MORE ARRESTS

Are Expected in New York Life Affair.

New York, Jan. 11.—More arrests may be made in connection with the investigation of the affairs of the New York Life Insurance company, according to an announcement made today by District Attorney Jerome. The announcement was made while the district attorney was opposing an application of counsel for George W. Perkins, now under indictment in the New York Life case, for an inspection of the entire minutes of the December grand jury.

Must Go to Work.

Lloyd Summers, a 16 year old boy from Morganfield, who has been washing dishes at the "Tennessee House" on lower Kentucky avenue, and who was arrested the first part of the week for vagrancy, was dismissed on the charge by County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning. The boy is an orphan and too young for the police court. He was instructed to procure work.

OFFICIALS INSPECTING LOCAL RAILROAD SHOPS

Joseph Baker and J. G. Neuffer, assistants to General Superintendent of Machinery William Renshaw, of the Illinois Central, were in the city today making a general inspection of the shops. It was their first trip in months. Their private car, No. 5, was side tracked at Broadway. The officials will leave for the east.

Hargis and Callahan Are Implicated By the Confession of Cox's Murderer

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 11.—John Smith, one of the men indicted for assassinating Dr. Cox in the Breathitt county feud, has made a written, signed confession in which he says

WILL WATCH HARRIMAN AND MAKE HIM TESTIFY

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The attorneys for the government, conducting the investigation into the management of the Harriman lines, announced today that they had determined to take steps to prevent E. H. Harriman, Henry C. Frick and H. H. Rogers, from leaving the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission. In order to prevent this, action will be taken to cause the issuance of writs of ne exeat by authority of which they will be compelled to remain within the jurisdiction of the commission.

TO CONTINUE I. C. TAX FIGHT

Deneen in Special Message Today Will Ask Legislature's Aid. Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—Governor Deneen will send a special message to the legislature tomorrow in reference to the claims of the state for back taxes from the Illinois Central railroad. The message will make a report on the inquiry that has been conducted, and which has resulted in the discovery that over $4,000,000 may be sued for by the state. An appropriation will be asked to continue the investigation and to press the suit in the courts.

TO CAIRO

PENSION EXAMINER'S OFFICE MUST BE MOVED.

C. B. Robbins Receives Instructions to Close Office Here at Once and Go.

Because of a general slackening of work in the pension department, the government has begun to consolidate districts, and after next week Paducah will no longer be the headquarters for a pension examiner. The office has been ordered removed to Cairo, Pension Examiner C. B. Robbins receiving instructions to this effect this morning.

Mr. Robbins came here over two years ago from Washington. Business was brisk and in fact, there is a great deal yet, but in other districts adjacent, it has shown a perceptible decrease.

"I have work which calls me as far as Central Missouri and away down in Arkansas," Examiner Robbins explained, "and I pass through Cairo en route to these states, yet I have no work at Cairo. I have been ordered to remove my office to that city and shall do so next week. I shall have southern Illinois as a territory."

"As to the work here, I presume it will be given to the examiner stationed at Owensboro. The business will be divided as equally as possible in all districts."

Bishop Montgomery Dead.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 11.—Archbishop Montgomery died this afternoon.

ORDERED TO SELL MORE PROPERTY

An order was issued by the referee in bankruptcy to Trustee Cecil Reed of the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company, to sell $3,000 worth of property he has on hand. Another order was given in the Schwab bankruptcy case directing Trustee A. E. Boyd to sell the book of accounts.

DEMAND RANSOM.

Little Son of Contractor Held By Kidnapers.

New York, Jan. 11.—A dragnet is thrown out by the police over the city to capture the kidnapers of Salvatore Sallit, aged six years, son of a wealthy broker, for whom $10,000 ransom was demanded. The child disappeared from in front of his home in Harlem yesterday. The father received a letter today demanding the ransom.

COUNCIL CALLED TO MEET TONIGHT

To Amend License Ordinance as to Saloons

President Lindsey Probably Will Name Committees So As to Begin Work of Apportionment.

LEGISLATION MAY BE BLOCKED

Dire possibilities of Paducah being dry during the month of February by failure of the board of aldermen to organize so as to grant saloon licenses; and the consequences of having no apportionment ordinance for the same reason, are arousing more than usual interest in the aldermanic deadlock.

Neither side to the controversy seems to intend giving in. By agreement a temporary chairman may be selected at each meeting in order to facilitate business. In the meantime legislative business will be at a standstill.

Mayor Yeiser has called a special session of the board of councilmen tonight to take up amendments to the license ordinance. In the drafting of it, provisions for saloon licenses for six months were omitted, and Treasurer Dorian called it to the attention of City Solicitor Campbell, who, acting under instructions from Mayor Yeiser, has drafted an amendment and this will be submitted tonight.

Also tonight President Lindsey will announce his committees and the finance committee at once will begin work on the apportionment ordinance.

Mayor Yeiser will submit his annual message and reports at this meeting.

VICTIMS OF RUSSIAN HOSPITAL

Americans Catch Smallpox From Infected Sheets and Die.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—Two Americans, Mrs. A. L. Lawson, of Montana and Albert A. J. Clement of Washington, D. C., have just died here, the victims of Russian hospital regulations. Mrs. Lawson's husband and Mr. Clement's wife were taken sick with measles and removed to the government hospital for contagious diseases. When they went to the hospital to visit the patients Mrs. Lawson and Mr. Clement were forced to wrap themselves up in hospital sheets, which had been used for smallpox patients and had not been disinfected. As a result both contracted smallpox. Mr. Clement died a few days ago, and Mrs. Lawson yesterday. Both Mr. Lawson and Mr. Clement came here in pursuit of their profession of mining engineers.

Jap Squadron Not Coming.

Tokio, Jan. 11.—The Japanese government has decided that on account of the anti-Japanese agitation on the Pacific coast the training squadron will not visit there, but will go as far as Honolulu only.

Attorneys Return.

Judge James Campbell, Attorney William Bradshaw, Jr., and Attorneys Orice & Ross, have returned from Louisville, where they argued the Rehkopf bankruptcy case before Judge Evans.

TWENTY-SIX WORKMEN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Twenty-six workmen were burned to death in a fire in a factory at Gieselschlag in Alsace today.

NEED CLOTHES.

Charity Club Calls on Citizens to Donate to the Poor.

Calls for help made to the Charity club have exhausted the supply of clothing, and there is a great demand for warm clothes and shoes. A call was responded to before Christmas, but citizens who care to help the cause may telephone the Charity club headquarters, 307 Kentucky avenue, and the clothes will be sent for.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

PONCE IN TOW.

New York, Jan. 11.—General Manager Mooney, of the New York Porto Rico Steamship company, to which the missing Ponce belongs, received a cablegram this morning from Bermuda, which said "The Ponce is off Bermuda in tow of a tramp, Wabbe. Signed Darrell." Mooney says he has no idea who Darrell is, except it is probably a commission house there. No further details are given. Mooney cabled for further advice.

Bermuda, Jan. 11.—By tugs the steamer Ponce is being towed to anchorage. A message flashed to the signal stations says the passengers and crew are safe. Delay was due to a broken shaft.

MUST NOT COMPLY.

Paris, Jan. 11.—In a letter to the French bishops, which arrived today, Pope Pius X. justifies his attitude toward the French lay for separating the church and state. He thanks the bishop for the unity they have shown in opposing the law under instructions from the Vatican. Compliance with amendments of the law recently made by parliament is forbidden the clergy.

MINERS ENTOMBED.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 11.—One hundred miners are entombed as the result of a cave-in at Schloss mines, Calhoun county, according to a telephone report received here. It is not known whether any were killed outright, but owing to the extent of the cave-in it will be several hours before they can be reached.

WORKING IN MUD IN SEWER TRENCH

To Extend Main of District No. 2. Beyond High School

District No. 3 Presents Problem, but It Is Only Means of Relief for Residents.

ENGINEERS SURVEYING ROUTE.

As fast as possible the contractors are pushing the work on the main sewer in district No. 2, and five gangs are busy near the railroad yards. The big brick sewer has been started through the railroad yards between Washington street and Kentucky avenue. It will enter Kentucky avenue at Twelfth street and pass the High school building, turning south again near there. It will be a month before the High school building is reached, probably, and then it can not be used until the sewer is officially accepted.

Plans for sewer district No. 3 are being worked upon by the Chicago engineers. This district presents a serious problem. Sewers are needed in Rowlandtown as much as in any other quarter of the city, and the same necessity exists in the neighborhood of Fountain avenue. The main of district No. 2 is not large enough to carry the sewerage from the section beyond Thirteenth street and the only possible relief for the outlying district is by a main running through Rowlandtown and emptying into the river near the incline as designed.

This sewer will traverse much territory now unimproved, but it seems to be the only way of affording the convenience to those who need it.

BODIES CREMATED; NO TRACE OF THEM

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.—Partial investigation to ascertain the number of fatalities that occurred at the Eliza Furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company last night, when an accumulation of gas exploded, bursting the base of the large furnaces and showering tons of molten metal over about forty men, was completed today, and shows that the bodies of 12 men, horribly mutilated, have been recovered. From 15 to 20 men are missing, it being generally believed their bodies were cremated by the metal, and ten men are in hospital, terribly burned, four of whom are expected to die momentarily.

PADUCAH TO HAVE INDEPENDENT TEAM

Plan of Traction Company Just Announced

Capable Manager Will Be Placed in Charge and Grounds Furnished Him.

SOME GOOD SPORT PROMISED.

To gratify the cravings of a multitude of Paducah baseball fans, the Paducah Traction company will put forth efforts to establish an independent baseball team in Paducah this season, and invites a capable man as a manager in conference to arrange the details. While the traction company does not intend to go in for sports, it does not desire to have the ball park idle during the season, and Manager John S. Bleeker has devised a means to utilize it to the advantage of the public, traction company and those who play and manage the team.

"Baseball is a sport we do not wish to be immediately identified with," Manager Bleeker stated, "but we do not wish the park to remain idle, and to satisfy the fans we shall consider a proposition from some capable manager to put in a strong independent team this summer. We can arrange the details in conference when the right man shows up. The baseball suits can be procured from the baseball association for a small sum, I think, and the grounds will need little working. The traction company will make liberal arrangements, of course, would want a schedule of games that would be relied upon and insure frequent games. There are dozens of capable baseball team managers in Paducah, and enough good players to organize a strong team. Moreover, a circuit will this season be formed of independent teams, and Cairo, Paducah, Princeton, Hopkinsville and Princeton, Ind., with probably Mayfield, Hickman, Wickliffe and other nearby towns, will have independent teams from indications. A regular circuit could be formed and the game made more interesting than a regular league."

It is expected that Manager Bleeker's invitation will be received with pleasure and it will doubtless draw anxious fans to him with propositions to put in a team.

SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Committee of Third Met in Paducah Yesterday.

The Democratic senatorial committee of the Third district met in Paducah yesterday at the Palmer House and decided to meet at Eddyville on February 22 to nominate, if there is but one candidate announced. In event more than one candidate announces, county conventions will be held and delegates selected to attend a district meeting at Murray. The district is composed of Calloway, Lyon, Livingston and Trigg counties, and all were represented, Attorney James Coleman, of Murray, presiding over the meeting. Senator Conn Linn, of Murray, is the only announced candidate.

Mexican Student Here.

Jose Gonzales, a Mexican, who has entered a private school in Paducah for the purpose of perfecting his English, and studying shorthand. He was sent here from St. Louis on account of the crowded condition of the St. Louis branch of the business college, and is doubtless the first Mexican to go to school in Paducah.

CRITICALLY ILL.

Mr. John Murray Confined to His Home With Stomach Trouble. Mr. John Murray, of the firm of Chamblin & Murray, brick manufacturers, is critically ill of stomach trouble at his home, South Seventh street. Mr. Murray is one of Paducah's best business men. He is middle aged, married and has a family.

GRAND JURY

Will Investigate the Princeton Outrage.

Attorney Clem Whittemore, legal adviser of Fire Marshal Mott Ayres, stated while in Paducah yesterday that the burning of tobacco barns at Princeton, Ky., several weeks ago, will be investigated in the grand jury room, and that abundance of evidence has been secured against persons suspected of being implicated in the work of the mob. The matter may ultimately find its way to the federal grand jury, as some of the tobacco stored in the warehouses was for foreign shipment and subject to interstate commerce laws.

ACCUSES THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL OF REBATING.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—In a special message transmitted to the general assembly today Gov. Charles S. Deneen accuses the Illinois Central railroad of rebating, of defrauding the state of Illinois out of supposedly big sums to which the state is entitled under the terms of the Illinois Central charter, and of "many other practices, schemes and devices detrimental to the state, by means of which the state has been deprived of revenue to which it was justly and honestly entitled under the charter." The governor asks the legislature for an emergency appropriation of $100,000 to the governor and $50,000 to the attorney general for the purpose of instituting suits against the Illinois Central.

UNHOLY LOVE

Caused Tragedy at Roanoke, Va., Last Night.

Roanoke Va., Jan. 11.—Wallace Mays last night killed Mrs. Etta Murray and then shot himself. Letters left by the murderer show that jealousy was the cause. Mrs. Murray had a husband and five small children. Mays was unmarried.

INCREASE

AT PRESENT RATE WILL PLACE OFFICE IN HIGHER CLASS.

Prospects Are That Annual Business for 1908 Will Reach $60,000 at Least.

"If the rate of increase of business enjoyed in 1906 by the Paducah postoffice continues, the office will be placed in a higher class, and in another year the office of postmaster will pay $3,200 salary." Postmaster Frank M. Fisher said this morning, as he looked over the annual report of his department.

"When postoffice receipts amount to $45,000 the salary is $3,100, and when $60,000 is reached the office is placed in another class with an increase of $100 per annum in the postmaster's salary. I think that if the present rate of increase continues it will be promoted by January 1, 1908."

The Report.

The annual report of the Paducah postoffice for 1906 shows an increase of $6,598.78 over 1905.

1905—Receipts	$52,092.41
1906—Receipts	58,691.19
Increase	6,598.78

It can be seen that the receipts for last year lack but a little over $1,000 for reaching the $60,000 class. The office now pays $3,100.

La Touraine Withdrawn.

Havre, France, Jan. 11.—La Touraine, scheduled for New York tomorrow, is withdrawn from commission owing to the discovery of serious damage to her machinery.

MORE PLEADINGS DELAY DECISION

Because of the filing of more pleadings in the case of J. E. Potter against C. E. Bell, a suit to determine whether the board of public works or the common council has the power to appoint a marketmaster, was not decided today, contrary to expectations. Late yesterday afternoon he found more pleadings in the case on his desk, and will have to go through them before he will decide. Judge Reed took no action today in the case and court adjourned for the day at 10 o'clock. The decision will not come before tomorrow.

GRAND JURY

Will Investigate the Princeton Outrage.

Attorney Clem Whittemore, legal adviser of Fire Marshal Mott Ayres, stated while in Paducah yesterday that the burning of tobacco barns at Princeton, Ky., several weeks ago, will be investigated in the grand jury room, and that abundance of evidence has been secured against persons suspected of being implicated in the work of the mob. The matter may ultimately find its way to the federal grand jury, as some of the tobacco stored in the warehouses was for foreign shipment and subject to interstate commerce laws.

CONFINED IN JAIL QUARTER CENTURY

Refusing to Tell Aught of His History

James Varner at Last Admits That He Is Union Veteran of the Civil War.

DISCHARGED FOR INSANITY.

After being confined 26 years in the county jail at Dover, Tenn., during which time his insane, dogged determination prevented his giving out least intimation of his identity, James Varner 72 years old, found his tongue and declared he had been a Union soldier in the Civil war.

He was examined by C. B. Robbins, pension examiner of this city, who has just returned from Tennessee, after investigating the case. Mr. Robbins has not completed his work, but stated today that he thinks Varner will be proven a soldier and taken charge of by the government.

"Varner's case is most peculiar," Mr. Robbins declared. "I was called to Dover to investigate his case and found my subject a lunatic. He has been in jail in Dover 26 years. The Tennessee asylums are crowded and Varner had to be kept in jail. He refused to talk about himself until recently. His talk then convinced officials that he had served in the Civil war who will be glad to be rid of him."

"I found on examining the man and those who have known him since he came to that section, that he served during the Civil war in Troop H, First Pennsylvania cavalry, and was mustered out of the army in 1861 a lunatic. I have no theory as to why he refused to talk, other than his peculiar form of lunacy. Attempt after attempt to draw the aged veteran out failed, but when he did begin to talk I had little trouble in learning all he knows. I believe him to be a Union veteran. If he proves to be, he will be taken to some government asylum."

GUESTS

OF BUSINESS MEN WILL BE CHICAGO HOTEL MEN.

Date of Palmer House Banquet Awaits Convenience of Those Who Will Be Honored.

The dinner to be given in honor of the officers and directors of the Palmer Hotel company by local business men as an expression of appreciation of the efforts made by the company to give Paducah a first class hotel, probably will take place February 1. The date had not been set definitely but on near the first of next month.

The banquet will be given in the new dining room of the hotel and will be probably the first affair of that kind to be given in the magnificent room. Plates for 100 will be laid. Excepting the officers and directors, the guests will pay for their plates as apportioned. The dinner is given especially in honor of Judge Laughlin and Mr. Roth, of Chicago, two of the largest stockholders in the company.

In the reconstruction of the hotel, particular pains have been taken to give preference to home material and home workmen, even frequently at a higher cost, and it is in recognition of this, and the fact that Paducah will have a hotel that will reflect credit to the city, that the dinner is given. The arrangements are being completed as to the gentlemen to be present and the dinner, aside from its pleasurable features, is expected to result in much good to the city from the coming together of so many prominent business men.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Friday — Henrietta Crossman in "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy."
Saturday — Matinee and night — Willard Mack and Maude Leone in repertoire.

"Janice Meredith," Well Played.
"Janice Meredith," as played last night by Willard Mack, Maude Leone and company, presented an interesting bit of real life in the revolutionary period. Nearly all Paducahans are acquainted with the quaint, picturesque story on which the play is founded, and the action of the play follows the story closely. Mr. Mack took the part of Charles Fowles, the bond servant of Squire Meredith, and Miss Leone the part of Janice Meredith. A tribute to the realism of the production occurred in the fourth scene where the Continentals dash in and capture the British at a Christmas celebration. One enthusiastic auditor raised in his seat, swung his hat and cheered lustily. The same company will present "The Little Minister" at the matinee tomorrow and "Raffles" tomorrow night, closing the engagement.

Walker Whiteside.

Mr. Walker Whiteside will play his annual engagement at The Kentucky next Tuesday night. He will present his new play, "The Magic Melody," a drama in three acts, the scenes of which are laid on Manhattan Island. The play tells the story of Helmar, a young German violinist whose genius the arrows and slings of fortune have never been able to dishearten. Compelled by poverty to earn his living by playing in cheap cafes he never lets his mind wander away from the goal of his dream. Of an emotional temperament he falls in love with the ward of one of the richest financiers in America, but opposition bars the road to their happiness for a time. In the end all obstacles are surmounted and the final curtain falls on the happy lovers clasped in each others arms. The role of Helmar affords splendid opportunities to Mr. Whiteside for it is a many sided character. Notwithstanding the seriousness of his life he possesses a keen sense of humor. Besides the comedy touches, the part calls for as much romanticism as would that of any hero of the age of chivalry.

Miss Henrietta Crossman

Concerning Miss Crossman in "All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy" which is presented at The Kentucky tonight, the Chicago Tribune says:

Laughter, and nonsense, and rush, and bustle. Such is "All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy" which Henrietta Crossman and her company presented at Powers' last evening for the first time in Chicago. But, as the entomologist in the play says, "Why not?" It is the season of supposed cheer and gaiety, although the throngs that haunt State street may not think so. And certainly the patron of the playhouse need not complain if in such a season, a farce made up largely of laughter and nonsense and presented in a rushing bustling style is offered for his entertainment.

The audience at Powers' certainly was entertained — there was no doubt of that. Laughter was almost constant and everybody was on the keen watch for the fun in the lines Miss Crossman and her associates gave such snappy, pointing utterance.

The plot is a variant on the familiar arrangement of two young people thrown together by designing relatives to play with love, and getting themselves really entangled in the meshes of the grand passion. Peggy O'Mara, the daughter of the late Prof. O'Mara, eminent authority on trap door spiders, is an impulsive, good hearted girl blessed with an Irish brogue that is delicious, a face that is bewitchingly pretty, and a heart that is as true and pure as her laugh is infectious and clear.

It is a rollicking trifle, and would not amount to much if not cast with Peggy in the hands of an actress who possesses charm of personality and unlimited vivacity. Marie Tempest carried the play to success in England and Miss Crossman does as much for it here.

Of the cast, Mr. Stallard as the spider-studying Lord Anthony does the most legitimate and finished work. He makes a genuine character study of the part and has worked it out with careful attention to detail. He stays in the role throughout every scene in which he appears, and his seriousness is a source of the purest amusement the performance affords. Mr. Gilmore as Jimmy joins with Miss Crossman in overacting in certain scenes, but when not thus immoderate is attractive and entirely efficient. Miss Waterman plays the mother of Peggy with good understanding and an effective brogue. Miss Warrington does a talkative bit successfully, and Miss Marbury, Miss Meek, and Mr. Crawford and Mr. Pitt are generally satisfactory.

WATER NOTICE.

Patrons of the Water company are reminded that their rents expired December 31st, and those who desire to renew this quarter should do so before it is forgotten. All premises not paid for on or before January 10th will be discontinued, and the cost of shutting off and turning on water will be one dollar.

Procrastination and Sloth once ran a race. Procrastination never started and Sloth never got there, so the race was declared a dead heat.

GAINES AND MAHON ALMOST TO BLOWS

Lie Passes But Other Members Interfere in Wrangle

Grew Out of Gaines Charge That Mahon Was Absent Too Much From House.

RAILROAD EMPLOYES BILL.

Washington, Jan. 11.—In the house today there was a scene of a threatened personal encounter between Gaines, of Tennessee, and Mahon, of Pennsylvania, growing out of the Gaines bill to "dock" members for chronic absence.

The encounter happened when Gaines was making a speech on his bill and being twitted by both sides to his evident embarrassment, he charged Mahon with being absent 95 per cent of the time.

Mahon leaped to his feet and thundered: "The man who charges me with being away from this house 95 per cent of the time tells an untruth."

Gaines started down the aisle shouting: "No man can tell me I lie."

Then Mann, of Illinois, who was in the chair, ordered both to their seats, Mahon obeying, while Gaines stood shaking his fist and head at the Pennsylvanian.

Pass Railway Employees Bill.

After more than five hours of lively debate on limiting the hours of service of railway employees the senate today passed a substitute for the pending bill of which La Follette was the author as he was of the original. The substitute limits the time to 16 consecutive hours' service, followed by 10 hours' rest. There was but one negative vote, Pettis, of Alabama.

RADICAL

IS MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR-ELECT OF CONNECTICUT.

Machine Made Executive Turns Against Methods of Supporters and Lobbyists.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 11.—Governor Rollin S. Woodruff, a machine-made and elected chief executive, today slipped his leash and demanded revolutionary measures in his opening message to the legislature.

He served notice on the lobby to quit business, ordered the legislature to stop passing special legislation, demanded a new law requiring corporations to put out capital stock at market instead of face value, demanded an employers' liability law, the appointment of a woman labor supervisor for factories, the abolition of the state school fund, a law permitting trial by jury in damage cases and new divorce laws permitting judicial separation as well as absolute divorce.

The message is the most radical ever penned by a Connecticut governor, and completely upsets Nutmeg state traditions of hide-bound conservatism.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.

Calro	42.5	0.2	fall
Chattanooga	6.6	6.3	fall
Cincinnati	38.3	0.4	fall
Evansville	38.8	0.7	fall
Florence	3.0	3.6	fall

Louisville	14.9	0.8	fall
Mt. Carmel	22.4	0.4	fall
Nashville	16.3	1.1	fall
Pittsburg	15.0	2.6	fall
St. Louis	10.1	...	St'd
Mt. Vernon	39.7	0.2	fall
Paducah	38.5	0.5	fall

Much cheerier was the prospect this morning when the gauge registered a fall of 5 in the last 24 hours. The stage is 38.5. The weather is uncertain, but as long as it is not positive either way, the river will fall and should cold weather set in, all apprehension of damage from flood water will cease.

Paducah has lost little from the present high water. It takes a stage of 45 feet to really inconvenience the city, and such a stage has not been on the gauge in ten years. In 1898, the river rose above 43 feet. The wharfboat is blocked off with freight, a large part being tobacco. The irregularity of the packets and the difficulty of delivering the freight here and at other points have caused the congested condition.

With the Henry Harley in tow, the J. B. Richardson arrived from Kuttawa this morning at 8 o'clock. The wheel on the Harley has been dismantled and the repairs will be made here. The Richardson will go on to Evansville.

The flanges and cranks have been removed from the shaft of the John Hopkins and they will be sent to Evansville to be placed on the new shaft there. The Joe Fowler will take them tomorrow.

The Electra after taking on the Harley's trip went to Nashville and will run in and out of that city. The Butterf will arrive here Sunday in time to leave on the regular time Monday at noon for Clarksville. Word from the John B. Patton says that that steamer will not return to this city in the Chattanooga trade. As announced previously in this column, the Patton was built for the upper Tennessee river trade. Those members of the Patton's crew who were shipped here, will return by rail.

In the midst of winter, the dry docks and marine ways are working at full capacity with enough work on hand to keep the two yards busy for months ahead. All this repairing of steamboats and barges indicates that river men have money. Old boats that have been tied up for months and even years, are being rehabilitated and every barge that will half-way float has been pressed into use. At the ways, the steamboats waiting for their turn for repairs, construct a clear view of the Tennessee river, they are so numerous, while at the dry docks nearly a hundred men are working strenuously to keep up with the work.

One of the model barges will be finished at the docks Monday and the Lydia will be taken out. After the Lydia the Charles Turner will be repaired.

The Gate City will have the job of keeping the Lydia's fleet of barges "pumped up" while that towboat is being repaired.

The Scotia left for the Cumberland river this morning after three barges of ties.

The Henrietta left last night for the Tennessee river. The Jim Duffy, of the Ayer-Lord fleet, arrived last night from the Ohio river and left today for the Cumberland river.

Finer than anything seen here in a long time, the new Alton Eagle arrived from Howard's last night at 7 o'clock in tow of the Spread Eagle. While no name has been painted on the new boat, it is understood that it will be the "Alton Eagle." She is 265 feet long and 45 feet wide. Some idea of her size may be gotten by comparing it with the Island Queen, which she exceeds in size. The machinery and finishing touches will be put up here preparatory to starting out next spring.

Similar to a prize fight was the situation on the river brought about by the arrival of the Alton Eagle and Henry Harley. The Alton Eagle entered the local ring with her second.

in perfect trim, ready for the fight, and the Henry Harley came in with the Richardson, as a second, but looking as if she had received a solar plexus blow.

The Kentucky arrived at 5 o'clock this morning from the Tennessee river and will leave tomorrow for the same river.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville, will generally fall during the next two days. At Mt. Vernon and Paducah will continue falling during the next several days. At Cairo, will commence falling slowly.

The Tennessee, from Florence to the mouth will continue falling.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, will fall during the next 24 hours.

The Wabash, at Mt. Carmel, not much change during the next 12 to 24 hours, then probably fall.

Illustrious Shoemakers.

Germany's now famous Captain of Kopenick comes of a calling which has given the world some very great men. One authority asserts that the majority of cobblers have exceptional brains—that their attitude when stooping over their work tends to a cranial development in the part where the intellectual faculties are seated. Someone has written a book on illustrious shoemakers. In it are Sir Cloudesley Shovel, Gifford the Terrible, Bloomfield, author of the well-known "Farmer's Boy," Carey, the Orientalist; Admiral Myrns; George Fox, founder of the Society of Friends; John Kitto, the biblical scholar; Sturgeon, the electrician. The list of illustrious shoemakers runs into scores.—Chicago News.

The Unwritten Law.

The code of unwritten law is likely to become bulky if present tendencies are not checked. If a man may kill another for one kind of insult, he cannot be reasonably be denied the privilege of murdering for any other insult. The scope of unwritten law is therefore very large, and the horizon of its operations is far off. Yet there must be a boundary somewhere if the human race is to survive the sudden judgments of the man with the gun.—Washington Post.

A motor-boat is to be utilized for mission service in the North Sea by the Missions Seamen society. It will be named the Francesa Roget and will be stationed at Herwich.

All leading hotels, restaurants and dining cars serve Mrs. Austin's Pancakes for breakfast. Much the best.

Removal Sale of A. Pollock's Jewelry Store

About February 15th we will take possession of our new store room—now occupied by the Great Pacific Tea and Coffee Co., 333 Broadway. In the meantime we have made startling reductions on our entire line of Watches, Diamonds and Jewelry. This for two reasons: First, we wish to move as little as possible of the present and, when we get into our new location, we mean to have a clean, new stock. If you need anything in our line give us a call, for we have made a cut of 50 per cent in many instances.

Daily Thought.

"Love is the only interpreter of man to man."—Outlook.

Some check should be placed on the departments by the general council to prevent overdrafts voluntarily incurred. Of course, where the general council authorizes an extraordinary expenditure during the year and after the departments have planned their work according to their apportionment, it is up to the general council to provide the means, but for current operating expenses there is only one thing for a board to do, and that is to keep its operations within the limits of its allowance for the year. Members of an executive board may see clearly where they could expend a certain sum advantageously and economically, but the general council may find it necessary to curtail this estimate. It is not within the province of the general council to dictate to the boards just how this appropriation is to be allotted for current expenses, but it is incumbent on the executive board when the apportionment is made, to lay out the money to the best advantage for the city, and to limit its ventures to the compass of the appropriation. Monthly statements of the condition of finances, showing the apportionment for each department the pro rata and the amount expended, are good monitors. As nearly as possible a department should keep within the pro rata of its allowance, although in such departments as the board of public works, for instance, whose operations naturally are more extensive in the summer than in the months of bad weather, a strict adherence to such a rule is impossible. But, at all hazards, boards should strictly regard their duty to avoid a deficit, and if in doing so their efficiency is crippled and the public service impaired, they may complain to the general council, and finding no relief there, allow the responsibility to rest where it belongs, on the revenue raising power.

Weeks have passed since the state fire marshal went to Princeton bent on bringing to justice the night riders, who disgraced the name of Kentucky and perpetrated an outrage on society by burning two warehouses, locking up the police and fire apparatus and subjecting the citizens to terror and their city to the perils of a conflagration. What has been the result? One man was arrested and discharged by the examining magistrate and the audience cheered the decision. There were hundreds of men in that cavalcade that took possession of Princeton, and were at no pains to conceal their work. It is impossible that their names are not known. Naturally the inhabitants are dumb with terror, but it is up to the state authorities to see that the men, who committed the crime are disclosed and sent to prison. That this crime should go unpunished is unthinkable. By apparently condoning their conduct we will cost Kentucky millions of dollars. The burning of those warehouses does not represent the sentiment of Kentucky, but by the acquiescence in the work of the mob the whole state throws itself open to such judgment. It is with pleasure we learn that Fire Marshal Ayers has evidence to be presented before the grand jury. Then we will see how Caldwell county stands.

Of all the indelicate, foolish acts ever perpetrated by a body of intelligent men who meant all right, the memorial transmitted by the commercial organization of Brownsville, Texas, thanking President Roosevelt for discharging the battalion of colored troops, was the limit. President Roosevelt did not discharge the whole battalion, because some of its members killed Brownsville citizens; he did not discharge them because they were negroes; he did not discharge them because, being soldiers in the uniform of the United States and under oath to uphold the constitution and laws of the United States and to protect the lives and property of its citizens, they conspired to protect law breakers and murderers; and he therefore, deemed them unworthy for further duty as soldiers. The president, as he said, merely performed his duty in discharging the contract with the soldiers. There was no thanks coming from anyone, and the effect of the Brownsville memorial can be only to reflect on the motives of the president.

To those acquainted with the conditions and who have the real interests of the Paducah public schools at heart, the announcement, that Prof. C. M. Lieb will retire as superintendent at the expiration of his contract, will be received with regret. No superintendent ever executed the duties of his office more faithfully and impartially; none ever required as high standard of efficiency and discipline of his teachers; none ever brought more executive ability and scholarly training to the perfection of the system. Wherever, Professor Lieb may go, he will carry with him the consciousness and satisfaction of work well performed and a dignity unsullied.

POLITICS.
 Now, while the ring manipulates the strings at the city hall, watch the Democratic press, orthodox and unorthodox, attempt to throw the burden of the aldermanic deadlock on Republican shoulders. It is the same old cry that went up when the board was deadlocked before, only the contestants are in reversed positions. Then the shout was, when the Republicans were elected to rebuke the ring, that the Republicans, being newcomers, should give way to the old Democratic members who were better acquainted with municipal legislation. It was done as they demanded. Now the Republicans are the old members, but the cry goes up that because they are insisting on electing one of their number, according to the previous views of the Democratic press better acquainted with aldermanic procedure, they are playing politics. It seems to us the Republican members have the advantage this time.

Should they resign, because Democrats were elected at the last election as a rebuke to the Republican regime? Was it a rebuke? The Democrats did not command the half of their normal majority. When the Republican council was elected we did not see any Democratic city officials resigning in deference to public opinion.

The four Republicans should stop playing politics and help the Democrats elect a president. What a delightful example they were set, when Alderman-elect John Little was persuaded to resign in favor of a man who would "stand by the party," and his successor appointed before the board was organized. There was a disposition on the part of the Republican members to be more than lenient until that trick was played. That was politics, all right, but it was impolitic. It stiffened the backbone of at least one Republican alderman. There would have been no deadlock if the mayor had not not elected aldermen on the board.

Unquestionably the Republican members would agree to the election of a Democratic president on the same terms that the Democratic members of the board of public works agreed to the election of a Republican, who happened to be the ranking member of the board by seniority—on condition that he resign at a certain time and make way for another Democrat.

The Republican members voted for four different men last night, affording their Democratic colleagues an opportunity to choose but the vote solid just the same. Supposing the Democrats next time withdraw their caucus candidate and name one of the others, as the Republicans did. Possibly one of them might be elected.

The life reflects the love.

TROUBLES

CAME TO PADUCAH WITH TWO BIG TELESCOPES.

Got Off at Broadway and Missed Connections, Then Failed to Catch Street Car.

"Troubles" for once in history came singly to the Paducah Traction company this morning, but it was enough to make up for the rest of the unwelcome family. "Troubles" is the cognomen of a German who travels out of Owensboro selling soap, and grease for lubricating purposes, and he got off the Cairo train at Broadway because "Paducah" was cried out by the flagman. "Troubles" wanted to go to Greenville, and should have gone to the passenger depot to make direct connections.

After attempting in vain to load two big telescopes on a Broadway car he became riled.

"Gott in Himmel," he exclaimed, "don't you think somebody wants to get on his car but you?"

The crowd on the rear platform tried to move, but it was evident "Troubles" was "out in the cold."

The car was taxed to its utmost capacity. A companion in misery tried to console him.

"You can catch a train for Greenville at noon," he declared.

"Dot do I understand perfectly, but beezness iss beezness, and I doan like it. I vill sue der company ven I gets me to town," and the last seen of "Troubles" he was trudging down the concrete pavements muttering and changing grips at every ten steps.

"Troubles" antics congregated a crowd, and he succeeded in delaying the street car several minutes at Eleventh street.

ASHAMED OF HIS CONDUCT
YOUNG FELLOW HID AWAY.

Ashamed of his disgraceful conduct towards Baggageman W. A. Flowers, at the Union depot, a young traveling man rode locked in the wash room of a passenger coach to St. Louis, never once showing his face to the passengers who witnessed his conduct at the Paducah station.

The young man entered the baggage room Wednesday morning. He was neatly dressed, but apparently under the influence of drink.

"Check this box," he commanded. The box contained loose articles and the baggage man asked what it held.

"Dynamite and nitroglycerine, you old fool," was the reply, "and more than that, I will come back behind that railing and scalp you if it is not checked."

Baggage man Flowers was not unprepared, and seizing a policeman's billy which he keeps handy, started out to meet him half way.

"The conductor told me this morning on returning that the young fellow boarded the train sober. He declared he must have been drugged and was sorry for his conduct," Baggage man Flowers stated. "I am satisfied he did not know what he was doing, and that is the reason I did not punish him."

New Russian Warships.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—The new budget will contain appropriations for two 21,000 ton warships to have a speed of 21 knots, and ten 12,000 ton vessels. All are to be built in Russia.

The four Republicans should stop playing politics and help the Democrats elect a president.

What a delightful example they were set, when Alderman-elect John Little was persuaded to resign in favor of a man who would "stand by the party," and his successor appointed before the board was organized. There was a disposition on the part of the Republican members to be more than lenient until that trick was played. That was politics, all right, but it was impolitic. FOR LIBRARY

MONEY MADE OFF LECTURES YESTERDAY WILL GO.

High School Cleared $75 by Major E. H. Cooper's Addresses—Interesting Talks.

The Paducah High school made about $75 by the two lectures by Maj. E. H. Cooper, of the Chicago Academy of Science, yesterday afternoon and last night. The auditorium in the afternoon was well filled, fully 300 being in attendance, and in the evening about 200 braved the threatening weather and attended. A small admission fee was charged, and Major Cooper was pleased with his reception.

The speaker's subjects were "The West and Its Population, Its People, Its Resources," and he talked of the cliff dwellers, and described mining in his talk on "From the Mine to the Mint." His lectures were by far the most practical and entertaining ever heard in the High school auditorium. The money will go to the library department.

This morning Major Cooper made a short speech to the High school.

PABST HEIRS TO PAY PENALTY

Inheritance Tax Delay Will Cost Beneficiaries of Will $49,650.

Milwaukee, Jan. 11.—Because they did not pay the inheritance tax on their share of the estate of the late Captain Frederick Pabst, the heirs must now pay penalties to the amount of $49,650. The estate, according to a judgment just entered in the county court, amounted to $7,837,999.30. The net value, after all expenses were paid, was $7,625,751.75. The inheritance tax amounts to $195,245.62. Of this amount $58,000 was paid within the time when penalties begin to run.

Mrs. Pabst paid her tax, but the children—Colonel C. G. Pabst, Frederick Pabst Mrs. Maria Goodrich, Mrs. Emma Soehlehn and Miss Elizabeth Pabst—did not do so, and now are penalized for deferring payments. The first four have to pay $11,087 each, and the granddaughter pays $5,300.

EX-QUEEN OF HANOVER IS DEAD

Princess Mary, Widow of George V., Succumbs to Operation.

Gmunden, Austria Jan. 11.—Princess Alexandra Mary Wilhelmina of Saxe-Altenburg, former queen of Hanover, who had been suffering for some time, past from sanguinal hernia, necessitating an operation which was performed January 6, died this afternoon.

Princess Mary was born at Hildesheim.

Pure Blood Is Essential to Good Health.

Dr. A. T. Smith, the discoverer of Osteopathy, stated many years ago, that perfect circulation of blood containing the proper food elements for tissue nourishment was absolutely essential for the maintenance of health, and all researches along bacteriological lines have proven without doubt the fact.

Perfect circulation is dependent on normal structure. As long as the different parts of the human organism are in proper relation to each other, and we observe the laws of Nature, the arteries and veins will be unimpinged and the blood circulate freely.

Pure blood is the best germicide known. Germs and their ill effects will disappear from the presence of pure blood.

The dry, hot-air treatments that I give, in connection with Osteopathy, restores the circulation to its normal condition, and improves and stimulates the blood. I have had marked success in its use with people in Paducah you all know well, and to whom I can refer you if you wish evidence of the fact.

The treatment is successful in all cases of stomach and liver disorders, malarial conditions, rheumatism, nervousness and chronic headaches.

FIGHT ANTI-AMERICAN BOYCOTT

Chinese Authorities Take Drastic Measures Against Agitators.

Hong Kong, Jan. 11.—The second and subsequent meetings of the anti-American boycotts, were frustrated by the action of the viceroy of Canton who ordered the apprehension of the leaders. The police have been instructed to destroy all placards bearing on the proposed boycott and the local newspapers have been prohibited from alluding to the subject.

There is no service of the real without recognition of the ideal.

People and Pleasant Events

D. A. R. Meeting Called.

The Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is called to meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with the regent, Mrs. Eli G. Boone, 308 South Sixth street. All the members are asked to be present to arrange for the first entertainment for the benefit of the Public Fountain fund.

Delightful Twelfth Night Celebration

The parish supper and Twelfth Night celebration of the Grace Episcopal church last night was a very delightful affair.

The supper was served at 6:30 in the lecture hall of the parish-house. Five long tables were attractively set and the menu was a most elaborate one. Mrs. Richard G. Terrell was chairman of the supper committee.

After the supper the hall was cleared and a Twelfth Night celebration under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary was held. A large circle was seated extending entirely around the hall and about a "fairy fire" in the center. By this light only Van Dyke's beautiful "Story of the Other Wise Man" was delightfully told in five parts by the Rev. David C. Wright, Mrs. Hal Corbett, Dr. I. B. Howell, Mrs. Muscoe Burnett and Miss Alice Compton.

A Twelfth Night cake and other features of interest and pleasure filled the evening. Attractive music was rendered by Mr. Owen Tully. About 80 people enjoyed the occasion.

Pleasant Dance.

The dance last night at the Red Men's hall was a very enjoyable affair and was largely attended. It was promoted by Mr. George Holliday. There were 25 couples in attendance.

Pretty Morning Card Party.

Mrs. W. B. Mills, of 2000 West Jefferson street, entertained very charmingly at cards this morning in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Marc Anthony, of Lexington. The house was attractively decorated with simlax and carnations and 10 tables of guests were present.

The first prize was taken by Mrs. James Utterback. The consolation prize went to Miss Scott. Mrs. Marc Anthony received the guest of honor prize. Egg nog was served before the game and a pretty appointed course luncheon at noon. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Marc Anthony of Lexington; Mrs. Luke Mitchell, of New Orleans; Mrs. D. C. Taylor, of Fulton.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 11.—Because the patrons on rural free delivery route No. 2, out of Cerulean Springs, in Trigg county, refused to allow their mail to be delivered by the negro carrier who was appointed, the route has been discontinued by the postal department. Patrons of the route never made any threats or demonstrations against the carrier, but preferred to go to the office for their mail rather than have it delivered by a negro.

CUT WIRES; THEN ROB BANK.

Burglars Put Town Out of Communication Before Blowing Safe.

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 11.—Preventing the sending of possible alarm to neighboring towns by cutting all telegraph and telephone wires, a gang of four burglars blew up the safe in the private bank of Chester & Son at the village of Bonfield with nitro glycerin early today, securing $800. A hand-car procured by breaking into a tool-house was used by the men in escaping to Gardner, a distance of thirteen miles, where it is thought they boarded a passenger train to Chicago. Owing to the severing of the wires, the sheriff in this city did not receive news of the robbery until several hours later. The inhabitants of the village were not aroused by the explosion, although it almost completely wrecked the safe.

IN THE COURTS

Mr. Mullen Not Summoned.

It was erroneously stated yesterday in the report of the police court proceedings that W. N. Mullen was summoned to be placed under a peace bond. Mr. Mullen was not summoned.

Police Court.

Will Cobb, colored, amused himself at a lower Kentucky avenue restaurant yesterday afternoon by throwing rabbits about the place. George Tapsey, another dusky inebriate, joined in the fun and when Detective Will Baker arrived they had run out of ammunition except that stored in their vocal organs, and they abused the detective all the way to the police station. This morning each received a fine of $20 and costs.

John Bulger, charged with cutting J. W. Bailick, alias Bailey, a blacksmith, was brought back from Paris, Tenn., last night by Detective T. J. Moore and presented for malicious cutting this morning. The case was continued until January 14th.

Other cases: Felix Jones, colored, petit larceny, dismissed.

In Circuit Court.

The case of W. F. Henson against Killian Seitz was dismissed without prejudice.

The motion of the Title Guaranty & Surety Company to be released from the bond of Paducah policemen was dismissed. The company filed the motion last year and the police fought it in order to retain their bond until the year was out.

RELIEF TO BE GIVEN

If Fees of Indian Attorneys Prove to Be Excessive.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A committee representing the Eastern Cherokee Indians today presented a petition to the senate committee, which is engaged in investigating the affairs of the five civilized tribes, praying for relief on account of the payment of $147,000 made to attorneys on the authority of the secretary of the interior.

Payment was made in connection with an effort to recover funds from the government and the Eastern Cherokees contended that the sum was far in excess of the amount called for by their contracts. They therefore requested that Secretary Hitchcock be asked to explain the expenditure and that relief be granted if it be found that it was excessive.

The more credit a man gets in this world for his goodness the less there is checked up to his accounts in the world to come.

TIPS.

Find a new task for a Want Ad.

"Adversity borrows its sharpest sting from our impatience," wisely commented an author. Usually a want ad. will make our impatience causeless.

"Nature seems to authorize trade as soon as you see the natural merchant." Nowadays you first get acquainted with the "natural merchant" through reading his ads. You would never hear of him otherwise.

As an evidence of the pulling power of The Sun's want ad. column, a Broadway firm wanted a boy and put an ad. in The Sun two days. They received eleven replies, and they are still coming in. Do you need a boy, or girl, or have you anything to sell, a Sun want ad. is the best agent in Paducah, and it's fee is so little.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicine leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient anesthetic.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two cathartic. Dr. Pierce's sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"I would have you remember, father," said he, "that if faith is a virtue charity is no less so." Then, speaking in English, "Which is Captain Savage?" "Ephraim Savage of Boston." "And Master Amos Green?" "Amos Green of New York." "And Master Tomlinson?" "John Tomlinson of Salem." "And Master Mariner Hiram Jefferson, Joseph Cooper, Seek-Grace Spaulding and Paul Cushing, all of Massachusetts Bay?"

"We are here." "It is the governor's orders that all whom I have named shall be conveyed at once to the trading brig Hope, which is yonder ship with the white paint line. She sails within the hour for the English provinces."

A buzz of joy broke from the cast-away mariners at the prospect of being so speedily restored to their homes, and they hurried away to gather together the few possessions which they had saved from the wreck. The officer put his list in his pocket and stepped across to where De Catinat leaned moodily against the bulwarks.

"What is to be done with us?" asked De Catinat.

"You are to be confined to the ship until she sails, which will be in a week at the furthest."

"And then?"

"You are to be carried home in her and landed over to the governor of Rochelle, to be sent back to Paris. Those are M. de Denonville's orders."

De Bonneville left De Catinat with a few blunt words of sympathy, but the friar still paced the deck, with a furtive glance at him from time to time, and two soldiers who were stationed upon the poop passed and repassed within a few yards of him. They had orders evidently to watch his movements. As he stood gazing his attention was drawn away by the swish of oars, and a large boat full of men passed immediately underneath where he stood.

It being the New Englanders, who were being conveyed to the ship which was to take them home. There were the four seamen huddled together, and there in the sheets were 'captain Ephraim Savage and Amos Green conversing together and pointing to the ship. The grizzled face of the old Puritan and the bold features of the woodsman were turned more than once in his direction, but no word of farewell and no kindly wave of the hand came back to the lonely exile. He stooped his face to his arms and burst in an instant into a passion of sobbing. Before he raised his eyes again the brig had hoisted her anchor and was tacking under full canvas out of the Quebec basin.

De Catinat's bunk was next to a port-hole, and it was his custom to keep this open, as the cabin in which the cooking was done for the crew was close to him and the air was hot and heavy. That night he found it impossible to sleep, and he lay tossing under his blanket, thinking over every possible means by which they might be able to get away from this cursed ship. But even if they got away where could they go to then? All Canada was sealed to them. The woods to the south were full of treacherous Indians. The English settlements would, it was true, grant them freedom to use their own religion, but what could his wife and he do without a friend, strangers among folk who spoke another tongue? Had Amos Green remained true to them, then he would all would have been well. But he had deserted them.

But what was that? Above the gentle lapping of the river he had suddenly heard a sharp, clear "Hiss!" Perhaps it was some passing boatman or Indian. Then it came again—that eager, urgent summons. He sat up and stared about him. It certainly must have come from the open port-hole. "Something fell upon my chest with a little tap and, rolling off, rattled along the boards. He sprang up, caught a lantern from a hook and flashed it upon the floor. There was the missile which had struck him—a little golden brooch. As he lifted it up and looked closer at it a thrill passed through him. It had been his own, and he had given it to Amos Green upon the second day that he had met him.

This was a signal, then, and Amos Green had not deserted them, after all. He dressed himself, all in a tremble with excitement, and went upon deck. It was pitch dark, and he could see no one, but the sound of regular footfalls somewhere in the fore part of the ship showed that the sentinels were still there.

The guardsman walked over to the side and peered down into the darkness. He could see the loom of a boat. "Who is there?" he whispered.

"Is that you, De Catinat?"

"Yes."

"We have come for you."

"God bless you, Amos!"

"Is your wife there?"

"No, but I can rouse her."

"Good! But first catch this cord. Now pull up the ladder."

De Catinat gripped the line which was thrown to him and on drawing it up found that it was attached to a rope ladder furnished at the top with two steel hooks to catch on to the bulwarks. He placed them in position and then made his way very softly to the cabin midships in the ladies' quarter, which had been allotted to his wife. In ten minutes Adele had dressed and, with her valuables in a little bundle, had slipped out from her cabin. Together they made their way upon deck once more and crept aft under the shadow of the bulwarks. They were almost there when De Catinat stopped suddenly and ground out an oath through his clenched teeth. Between them and the rope ladder there was standing in a dim patch of murky light the grim figure of a Frenchman friar.

There was standing the grim figure of a Frenchman friar.

But De Catinat was not a man with whom it was safe to trifle. His life had been one of quick resolve and prompt action. Was this vindictive friar at the last moment to stand between him and freedom? It was a dangerous position to take. The guardsman pulled Adele into the shadow of the mast, and then, as the monk advanced, he sprang out upon him and seized him by the gown. As he did so the other's cowl was pushed back, and instead of the harsh features of the ecclesiastic De Catinat saw with amazement the shrewd gray eyes and strong, stern face of Ephraim Savage.

At the same instant another figure appeared over the side, and the warm-hearted Frenchman threw himself into the arms of Amos Green. "It's all right," said the young hunter, disengaging himself with some embarrassment from the other's embrace. "We've got him in the boat, with a buckskin glove jammed into his gullet."

"Who, then?"

"The man whose cloak Captain Ephraim there has put round him. He came on us when we were away rousing your lady. Is the lady there?"

"Here she is."

"As quick as you can, then, for some one may come."

Adele was helped over the side and seated in the stern of a birch bark canoe. The three men unhooked the ladder, while two Indians who held the paddles pushed silently off from the ship's side and shot swiftly up the stream. A minute later a dim loom behind them and the glimmer of two yellow lights were all that they could see of the St. Christophe.

"Take a paddle, Amos, and I'll take one," said Captain Savage, stripping off his monk's gown. "I felt safer in this on the deck of your ship, but it don't help in a boat."

"I hope, madame, that all is well with you," said Amos.

"Nay, I can hardly understand what has happened or where we are."

MOST OF PATENTS FOR AUTOMOBILES

Engines and Electrical Apparatus Invented

Year Just Ended Greatest For Inventions in History—Value Is Not Known.

BIG TRUSTS ARE APPLICANTS

Washington, Jan. 10.—Edward B. Moore assistant commissioner of patents, tells me says William E. Curtis, that the greatest activity of inventors during the last year was in devising improvements in automobiles, in air and gas engines, in electrical apparatus and wireless telegraphy. Nineteen hundred and six, he declared, was the greatest year for inventions on record. It is not possible to give the exact number of applications filed or the number of patents granted at the present, but in both respects the record will be broken.

"Nor can I say anything about the commercial value of the inventions of 1906, in comparison with other years," said Mr. Moore, "because we have no data concerning such matter in the office. We have corps of 300 examiners, all college-bred men and many of them graduates in law, but they have no means of judging the commercial value of the inventions which pass through their hands."

"The applications for patents today come almost from professional inventors," continued Mr. Moore, "men who are trained to devise and to discover new methods, new processes, new machinery and improvements upon old methods, processes and machinery. And they are paid salaries—in many cases very large salaries—by manufacturing corporations, because of their genius in the line of invention. The inventor of this age is not a long-haired crankalike though we occasionally see one of that species. He is a man of science. Nor are the inventions of today the results of accident. They are the result of study, the application of scientific knowledge, combined with experience."

"The largest number of applications for patents come from the great trusts, which employ hundreds of professional inventors to devise improvements upon their machinery. Some people declare several years ago, when the large manufacturers began to combine their interests, that the relaxation of competition would be the end of invention; that rival manufacturers, having joined their interests, would no longer attempt to improve their machinery or introduce novelties and conveniences. It was predicted that the army of inventors employed in the mechanical industries of the country would be discharged and that manufacturing corporations would go on making the same old things in the same old way as long as people would continue to buy them. The contrary is the case. There is more activity in the improvement of machinery and in the inventions of devices since the trusts became fashionable than ever before, and the biggest part of the business of the patent office comes from the great trusts—the United States Steel Corporation, the harvesters trust, the automobile trust, the four great electrical companies—the General Electric of Lynn, the Edison of Schenectady, the Westinghouse of Pittsburgh and the Ballock of Cincinnati. Those and other great corporations employ the same inventors and show the same enterprise in making improvements that was shown before the trusts were born."

"There is considerable activity in wireless telegraphy and in aerial navigation. Formerly flying machines and perpetual motion attracted the attention of cranks only, but nowadays aerial navigation is receiving the serious attention of practical scientific men."

The Charming Woman.

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all she world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women; give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at all druggists, 50c.

CLINGS TO BRIDLE

WOMAN FRUSTRATES PLAN OF DAUGHTER TO ELOPE.

"For God's Sake, Don't Marry Him," She Cries To Girl—Dramatic Scene.

Versailles Ky., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Fanny Newkirk, a widow living near Clay's Ferry, in Fayette county, eighteen miles from Lexington, drove thirty miles through the rain today to this place, and after an intensely dramatic scene, succeeded in preventing, temporarily at least, the marriage of her only daughter, Miss Susie Newkirk, aged twenty-five, to George White. The couple had eloped, and the mother, who had heard of their plans, followed them. She overtook them here and surprised White in the act of applying for a license. He tried to escape her, and was about to drive away from the courthouse with her daughter in a buggy, when Mrs. Newkirk ran into the street and clutched the horse's bridle, shrieking, "Susie, for God's sake, don't marry him."

A Wonderful Happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. King, of that place says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now eighty-five." Guaranteed to cure all sores, by all druggists, 25c.

Quickly Identified.

A traveler in Norway stopped at a small town and put up at the city hotel. He remained more than one day and suddenly remembered that he had not registered.

Accosting the proprietor, he explained the situation and was assured that his name had been registered for him. As the visitor had not given his name, he was somewhat curious to see the entry. Calling for his register, he read: "Mr. Russian Leather, coming from Warranted." The hotel clerk had copied the inscription from his trunk.

A Memorable Day.

ALDERMEN BALLOT ALL NIGHT LONG

One Hundred and Thirty-Six Times With No Result

Deadlock Is Clinched Tight in Upper
Board and Members Will Begin
Monday Night.

F. B. SMITH NEW ALDERMAN.

After 136 fruitless ballots had been cast for president in the meeting of the new board of aldermen last night, the board adjourned after a session lasting five hours and 20 minutes until next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. Throughout the meeting the Republican members had the meeting well in hand, making the motion to adjourn at 12:50 o'clock after they had kept the board in session as long as they desired. Mr. Palmer left the city on the 1:50 o'clock train and stayed at the meeting until that time.

Aldermen Earl Palmer and E. D. Hannan were the nominees for the office of president on whom the board balloted so many times. It is a deadlock with no visible end. The first ballot cast showed a solidly on either side which boded no compromise, and at the final and 136th ballot no change in their determination was discernable. Gradually the spectators who had gathered to witness the organization, fled out, leaving the situation to the board and the mayor.

Just before the meeting was called to order by Clerk Bailey, Mayor Yeiser read a letter of resignation dated January 8, from Alderman-elect J. W. Little. Without losing a breath, the mayor read his official appointment of Mr. F. B. Smith, of the Fooks-Acree Lumber company, to the vacancy and Mr. Smith was present to immediately take up his duties.

Not the slightest inkling of Mr. Little's resignation had gotten out, and it came as a complete surprise to the four Republican members. They had understood from Mr. Little that he would remain in the board until after organization had been effected. It was their impression that Mr. Little would have prevented the deadlock which now apparently will grip the board indefinitely.

The mayor held the key to the situation, they think, in his hands and he deadlocked it. The appointment of Mr. Smith, while perfectly agreeable personally, was the cause of the inflexible attitude in the balloting by the Republican members and Alderman Smith voted regularly with the Democratic members last night. The suddenness of the appointment has resulted in solidifying the Republican members in their intention to sustain their position in favor of Alderman Palmer.

Alderman Chamblin nominated Alderman Palmer first and Alderman P. H. Stewart followed with the nomination of Alderman Hannan.

After several ballots had been cast, Alderman Palmer and Hannan withdrew from the room for a conference.

and on their return the balloting was resumed without any change in result. The compromise discussed in the conference was, that the two should toss up a coin for the position of president for the first six months in the year, the loser to act as president in the last half. The compromise was not accepted.

On the eleventh ballot, Alderman Palmer withdrew his nomination in favor of Alderman Chamblin. The board balloted twice unavailingly on Alderman Chamblin and Hannan, and Alderman Chamblin then withdrew in favor of Alderman Hank. One ballot was cast on Alderman Hank running against Mr. Hannan, and he in turn withdrew in favor of Alderman Hubbard. The same result again on one ballot indicated that it was not Alderman Palmer, but a Republican president against whom the Democratic members offered opposition, and Alderman Hubbard turned the nomination back to Alderman Palmer where it remains. Alderman Hannan retains the nomination on the Democratic side.

Palmer's Chance.
It is understood that a compromise making Alderman Palmer president, might have been accomplished, provided, had he agreed to allow some Democratic say-so in making up the more important committees. The presidency of the board of aldermen is important because he is the mayor pro tem. Further, the Democrats, having control in the council, do not relish Republican supremacy in the board of aldermen.

Meanwhile the balloting continued with monotonous regularity, neither side showing any disposition to move for adjournment. Clerk Bailey, acting chairman, kept up a running fire of amusing remarks addressed to everybody, and the mayor walked about restlessly. Soon, over the tops of every desk the feet of the members could be seen, evidencing that the prolonged meeting was wearying the members.

Fifty ballots were cast in the first hour of the meeting, which began at 7:30 o'clock. Suggestions of turning in a fire alarm to rout out the Republican members, elicited laughter. Several attorneys, and Dr. Calvin Thompson, who had attended the meeting expecting a consideration of the saloon licenses, left before 11 o'clock.

Coffee and Repartee.
At 12 o'clock most of the members were eating sandwiches and drinking coffee ordered from a nearby restaurant. Mayor Yeiser said he would stay there until Sunday morning. Mr. Bailey, the clerk, threatened annihilation of the Republicans should one of their number leave the room, as he would call the roll, giving a majority to the Democrats. The meeting more resembled a hung jury than anything else.

A neat trick was turned by Alderman Palmer, who took Clerk Bailey at his word and was out of the room when he started the roll call. It was 12:30 o'clock. Clerk Bailey went through the roll and was on the point of calling out a victory for Alderman Hannan, when it became evident that the victory was more apparent than real. It would have been a Republican victory, for Alderman Hannan, here as in former ballots, voted for Alderman Palmer. The latter walked in and voted for Alderman Hannan, and the Republican members enjoyed the joke.

At 12:50 o'clock Alderman Hubbard indicated his willingness to move for adjournment if the other side would second the motion. Alderman Hannan did so and the clerk cast the last and 136th ballot, which resulted as usual. Monday night Alderman Palmer will have returned to the city and the balloting will be resumed. Meanwhile the Republican members will stand pat.

TERRORISTS Have Made Record for Assassinations.

New York, Jan. 11.—Several months ago it was announced in dispatches from Europe that the terrorists in Russia had placed on a list for assassination the names of all the czar's principal ministers and guardians. Each was to be killed, getting closer and closer to Nicholas, until at last, if he refused reforms to the people, he also would be assassinated. So far the terrorists have kept their word. Since August these have been killed:

Gen. Min, commander of the guard, shot by a girl August 26, 1906.
Gen. Dmitri Trepooff, commandant of the imperial palace, slain by police son in the palace September 15, 1906.

Gen. Alexis Ignatieff, one of the most powerful of the czar's supporters, shot at Tver December 20, 1906.
Gen. Von der Launitz, perfect of police of St. Petersburg, most powerful man in Russia, shot to death January 3 last.

Gen. Pavloff, chief military public prosecutor, shot and killed Jan. 9.
Vice Admiral Doubassoff, former governor general of Moscow; two bombs and six revolver bullets missed him at close quarters.

Each man generally has just as many friends as his own merits can demand for him.

Because insincerity tried to vote for all the candidates at once, he was arrested for stuffing the ballot box.
